For 15 years my brother, Conor, who has both cognitive and physical disabilities, has attended the Schroth Center of LADACIN Network for education and therapy services. These programs have allowed Conor to flourish as an individual and live a happy and full life. LADACIN Network helps over 2,600 families in New Jersey overcome the challenges of a family member with disabilities and ensures that the needs of these special individuals are met. Without LADACIN, Conor could not have achieved his personal successes and my family could not have overcome our unique adversities. Despite the economic hardships felt by everyone, we must not forget non-profits such as LADACIN who cannot afford to cut the programs and services they offer to their clients. This is why it is an honor to run the NJ Marathon on behalf of LADACIN and to give back to the wonderful agency that has provided so much to so many over the years. I encourage everyone to contact LADACIN and find out how you can be a part of giving back.
